

Laurence SAYA, MD
Senior Consultant / Partner

Following her Degree in Medicine from the University of Paris, and statistical degree in epidemiology (CESAM), and after a few years spent in paediatrics, Laurence Saya joined the Pharmaceutical Industry in 1983 to develop CNS drugs.

She left Pharmaceutical Companies to work in International CROs, and held major positions in these organisations as head of the French office as well as head of European project managements.

Co-founder of Altius Pharma CS, she acts as a senior consultant mainly involved with medical affairs and market access projects for major pharmaceutical companies.